

hides the sprite on the stage if it is currently shown shows the sprite on the stage if it is currently hidden changes the y position of the sprite by a specified amount checks if the sprite is touching the edge of the stage and if true reverses the direction the sprite is pointing is an illusion (usually of a movement) created by showing different costumes in sequence repeats the blocks inside it 'forever' (until the red stop sign is clicked)

